DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 1-10, 15, 16, 25, 26, 29, 30, 32, 33 and 37-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McCain (2428980) in view of Mason (3918166).

McCain teaches the invention substantially as claimed including a band a low stretch segment (4) sized to fit around a wearer's head; and an elastic (8) segment being smaller the low stretch segment, the elastic segment having a free end and an attached end, the elastic segment being attached at the attached end with the low stretch segment, the free end of the elastic segment configured to form a closed loop with the low stretch segment around a wearer's head. To the extent that the band of McCain may not be sized to fit around a wearer's head, Mason teaches that it is well known to provide band portions visual indicators sized to fit around a wearer's head. It would have been obvious at the time invention was made to provide the band portion around the a wearer's head since such band portions are well known as indicated by mason and in order to have an adjustable band portion around the wearer's head for providing visual indicators. Note the closure (8) and the stop portion as seen in figure (2). Also note the tab portion (7) connected to the free end of the elastic portion.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-14 allowed.

Claims 17-24, 27, 28, 31 and 34-36 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
